The Registered Nursing Education Program at College of Marin prepares students for entry into the nursing profession and serves as a foundation for advanced nursing studies. The Program faculty views Nursing Education as an individualized, collaborative endeavor that assists students in acquiring the knowledge, skills, and values necessary for entry-level nursing practice. Emphasizing critical thinking, effective communication, and cultural and clinical competence, the Program aims to prepare graduates for roles as care providers across the healthcare continuum, as managers of care, and as active members of the nursing profession.

The Program affirms the dignity and worth of each individual and strives to educate students who are adaptable, responsible, politically aware, and committed to lifelong learning.
