

Open Educational Resources (OER) and Zero Textbook Cost (ZTC) at COM: Home

OER: Open Educational Resources, Zero Textbook Cost Pathways, and Open Pedagogy

- Home
- Finding OER
- Creating & Remixing OER
- Open Pedagogy & OER Research
- Creative Commons and Copyright

Open Educational Resources & Zero Textbook Cost Pathways

Welcome to the OER and ZTC Guide

Use the tabs above to learn more about ZTC and OER, and find out how you can get started using OER.

Support student success with OER and Zero Cost Textbooks Pathways

Open Educational resources (OER) provide faculty with the tools to dynamically impact student engagement and retention.

OER

- Supports student equity
- Is easily adapted for online learning

Pathways to ZTC

1. Review, adapt and adopt existing peer-reviewed textbooks and instructional material
2. Create, publish and share through the Creative Commons your own textbook and instructional material
3. Contact the library to find out if there are eBook options or other items in the collection that can take the place of textbooks
4. Be a Zero Textbook Cost Champion in your own department

Image credit: "OER is sharing" by giulia.forsythe is marked with CC0 1.0.

Zero Textbook Cost Classes at College of Marin

ZTC class instructors use Open Educational Resources (OERs), ebooks, readers or the Library Textbook Program to develop instructional materials. Find ZTC courses in the class schedule.

OER Contacts

Michele Alaniz

OER Librarian

mmalaniz@marin.edu

Ron Oxford

OER Librarian

roxford@marin.edu

Elle Dimopoulos

Accessibility, Technology Support, Creative Commons

edimopoulos@marin.edu

Stacey Lince

Instructional Design, Online Learning,

Creative Commons

slince@marin.edu

OER Librarian Office Hours

Michele's Fall 2023 Office Hours

TBA

Or by Appointment in person or via zoom

Ron's Fall 2023 Office Hours

TBA

Or by Appointment in person or via zoom

Let us know you're coming to office hours and we'll send you a zoom link.