Good news! We have a new course placement process for math and English.

Many students will no longer have to take a test to enroll in math or English classes at College of Marin. With the new AB 705 legislation, California Community Colleges now use high school GPA and guided self-placement to help students select their math and English classes. However, the best way to select the right class is to see a counselor. A counselor will help you determine the best choice for your individualized educational goal.

*Please note that Statway classes will not be offered Fall 2020 semester
